

UCD Blog Policy

A draft blog policy is currently under review and will be published when a finalized version becomes available. In the interim, please refer to the following guidelines:

Author posts

Comments and related material expressed by blog authors and users of blogs are theirs alone and do not reflect the opinions of UC Denver or its employees.

Comments

Blog comments are subject to approval and may be subject to content edits due to length, profanity or otherwise questionable content. Comment subject matter will not be materially changed and are only screened for profanity, length, spam and off-topic material.